The International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) is an impartial, neutral and independent organization whose exclusively humanitarian mission is to protect the lives and dignity of victims of armed conflict and other situations of violence and to provide them with assistance. The ICRC also endeavors to prevent suffering by promoting and strengthening humanitarian law and universal humanitarian principles. Established in 1863, the ICRC is at the origin of the Geneva Conventions and the International Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement. Please visit www.icrc.org for more information.

Vacancy Notice

The ICRC Regional Delegation in Bangkok seeks to fill the following position:

Regional Protection Data Analyst

Job Purpose:

Strengthen the ICRC’s capacity to ground its Protection response and its Protection dialogue and policy on a solid evidence basis in the ASIA Region. Ensure a rigorous methodological approach to data collection, both qualitative and quantitative, and to processing data analysis, and visualization. Build capacity in EBP (Evidence-Based approaches to Protection) and transfer of knowledge to the Regional Data Protection Office (RPDO) in Bangkok.

Under the supervision and guidance of senior Data analyst in Geneva, the analyst would work in close coordination with the Protection coordinators in the concerned contexts.

Responsibilities:

- Ensure rigorous methodological approach both qualitative and quantitative to data collection, analysis, visualization and reporting that will provide an in-depth understanding about the humanitarian situation related to Protection situation and ICRC’s activities in the Region.
- Contribute to the reflection, development and implementation analysis to help optimize and strengthen Evidence-based approaches to Protection, regional policy and operational dialogue.
- Build reports, dashboards and visualizations combining quantitative and qualitative methods and produce visual and reader-friendly analytics.
- Perform ad-hoc researches and data extraction requests.
- Explore new data sources and analytical techniques.
- Propose advanced-level evidence-based analytical writing.
- Map available regional external data resources and build partnerships with other organizations based in the Region.
- Link up with other internal ICRC departments in topics related to data and analytics.
- Train, advise and support the RPDO with analysis of regional topics, providing advice on consistent data collection and identifying points to be standardized.

Qualifications and Skills:

- Bachelor's degree in computer science, Geography, Statistics, Economics, Social Sciences or a related field with a minimum of 5 years’ experience (International/humanitarian is a plus)
- Master's degree/PhD in Computer Science, Geography, Statistics, Economics, Social Sciences or a related field with a minimum of 2 years’ experience (International/humanitarian is a plus)
- Experience in data analysis and statistical methods applied to humanitarian settings, assessments methodologies and conflict analysis
- Storytelling ability through visually clear reports and dashboards, both dynamic and static
- Fluency in English
Assets:
- Fluency in Python, R or other relevant scripting and programming languages is an asset.
- Experience with automated collection and storage of data retrieved through web APIs (Application programming Interface) is an asset.

Desired profiles and skills:
- Interest in data, methodologies and passion of bringing it to use for Protection and ICRC work
- Ability to adapt to varying workloads and to work under pressure with very short deadlines in a constrained technological environment
- Well-organized, meticulous, creative and open-minded with a scientific approach to solving problems
- Team player with strong communication and intercultural skills

We offer:
- A rewarding and enriching work in an international humanitarian environment
- Initial training and on-boarding organised
- Possibilities of working in a fast-paced environment and to help victims
- A competitive salary with benefits

Starting date: ASAP

Qualified applicants are requested to submit their comprehensive CV and letter of motivation in English, as well as availability and salary expectation, by email only to:
ban_recruitment_services@icrc.org (specify position name at your email title)
Attn: Human Resources Department

The closing date for the post will be: 31 January 2020

(please refer to the source of vacancy announcement e.g. website, newspaper, etc… in the application letter)

Kindly note that only short-listed candidates will be contacted for the interview